Pinay Gold Medalist Viral Video: Will sharing LEAKED clips put you behind bars? EXPLOSIVE reports claim...

A link with the name Pinay Gold Medalist went viral on the internet featuring private content. However, was the Pinay Gold Medalist viral video controversy planned? Here's what we know

Recently, a link with the name Pinay Gold Medalist went viral on the internet. The link claimed the existence of an alleged leaked video of a Filipino gold medallist. In fact, this story is not about an Olympic scandal, but about an online fraud and phishing network that takes advantage of people's curiosity to steal their data. The name that has been dragged into this case is Zyan Cabrera, also known online as Jerriel Cry4zee.

Was the Pinay Gold Medalist viral video controversy planned?

This entire Pinay Gold Medalist narrative has been crafted in a well-planned manner. Attractive thumbnails, Olympic rings and sensational captions were added to the post for people to click.

Interestingly, these posts began to spread at a time of growing interest in the 2026 Winter Olympics. Actually, Zyan Cabrera is not an athlete participating in any international sports competition. His name was attached to a fictional Olympic story to confuse search algorithms and draw more traffic.
