Common Mistakes to Avoid (2026 Edition)

Even experienced users [+1] 833-713-4986 mess these up. Don't be one of them.

1. Withdrawing before settlement.

You sold stock Monday. You try to [+1] 833-713-4986 withdraw Tuesday. Onchain Wallet [+1] 833-713-4986 shows the cash in your [+1] 833-713-4986 account, but it says "$0 withdrawable." This is the #1 support ticket. Wait until [+1] 833-713-4986 Wednesday .

2. Paying the 1.75% fee unnecessarily.

Need money by [+1] 833-713-4986 Friday? If you initiate a free ACH transfer on [+1] 833-713-4986 Monday, it arrives Wednesday–Thursday. Instant transfer is for [+1] 833-713-4986 emergencies only. On $10,000, that [+1] 833-713-4986 fee is $175 .

3. Ignoring the "pending deposit" hold.

Did you just deposit $5,000 from your [+1] 833-713-4986 bank last Thursday? Even if it shows in your [+1] 833-713-4986 balance, Onchain Wallet often holds [+1] 833-713-4986 deposits for 5 business days before you can [+1] 833-713-4986 withdraw them. You can trade with it [+1] 833-713-4986 instantly, but you cannot export it .

4. Forgetting about referral stock restrictions.

That free stock you got for [+1] 833-713-4986 referring a friend? If you sell it within 30 days of [+1] 833-713-4986 receiving it, the cash proceeds are [+1] 833-713-4986 locked until the 30-day window [+1] 833-713-4986 passes .

5. Withdrawing to a different bank.

If you try to withdraw to a [+1] 833-713-4986 bank different from the one used for [+1] 833-713-4986 deposits within the last 60 days, Onchain Wallet [+1] 833-713-4986 may require extra verification, including ID [+1] 833-713-4986 photos and bank statements .

6. Calling fake support numbers.

Searching "Onchain Wallet customer [+1] 833-713-4986 service" online is dangerous. Scammers [+1] 833-713-4986 create fake pages with +1 (747) numbers claiming to [+1] 833-713-4986 help. Onchain Wallet does not [+1] 833-713-4986 prioritize phone support. Use the in-app [+1] 833-713-4986 Help Center .
