How Does It Work?

The RevivaFlow Foot Massager operates using a combination of advanced massage technologies designed to stimulate key pressure points in the feet.

When you place your feet into the device, it begins to apply gentle pressure and vibrations that mimic the hands of a professional masseuse. These movements help to relax muscles, reduce tension, and promote better circulation.

The device targets reflexology points located on the soles of the feet. According to reflexology principles, these points are connected to different parts of the body. Stimulating them may contribute to overall relaxation and well-being.

The heat function, when activated, adds another layer of comfort by warming the muscles and enhancing the massage experience. This combination of pressure, vibration, and heat creates a comprehensive therapy session that can be enjoyed from the comfort of your home.
